

TAL Contributor Licence Agreement

Thank you for your interest in contributing to the TAL Library ("TAL"). The BBC welcomes contributions to TAL from contract partners, hardware manufacturers, and any interested parties.

In order to accept contributions to TAL, we need all contributors grant Us a licence to the intellectual property rights in their Contributions. This Agreement ("Agreement") is intended to protect your rights as a contributor, and to help ensure that the intellectual property contained within TAL is available to the whole community, to use and build on. The Agreement does not change Your rights to use Your Contributions for any other purpose.

Please read this Agreement carefully before signing, keep a copy for Your records and send the signed copy via post to:

1. Definitions:

"Contribution" means any past, present and future contributions of object code, source code and documentation submitted to the BBC (including electronically, verbally, written, by electronic mailing lists, source code control systems and issue tracking systems managed by or on behalf of the BBC), but excludes any communication marked "Not a Contribution".

"You" or "Your" means the individual copyright owner, or company or organisation if You are entering into the TAL Contributor Agreement as an authorised representative of Your company or organisation.

"Us" means the BBC.

In consideration of the BBC making the TAL library available to You, You agree the following:

2. Grant of Copyright Licence - subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement You hereby grant Us a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, fully paid-up, royalty-free, irrevocable licence to reproduce, prepare derivative works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute Your Contributions and such derivative works.

3. Grant of Patent Licence - subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement You hereby grant to the BBC a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, fully paid-up, royalty-free, irrevocable patent licence to make, have made, use, import, and otherwise transfer Your Contributions. This licence applies only to those patent claims licensable by You (or persons or entities under your control) that are necessarily infringed by Your Contributions alone or by combination of Your Contributions to TAL.

4. You warrant that You are legally entitled to grant the above licence. If Your employer(s) has rights to intellectual property that You create that includes Your Contributions, You warrant that You have received permission to make Contributions on behalf of that employer, that Your employer has waived such rights for Your Contributions to the BBC.

5. You warrant that, except as disclosed in Your Contribution submission(s), each of Your Contributions is Your original creation. Where Your Contribution includes any work which is owned or otherwise restricted by a third party, You should include this information in Your Contribution submission.

6. Your Contributions are provided to the BBC on an “AS IS” basis, without warranty of any kind, including without limitation any warranties or conditions of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose and/or non-infringement.

7. Neither party shall be liable to anyone for ANY CONSEQUENTIAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR INDIRECT DAMAGES OF ANY KIND arising out of the use of Your Contributions, even if the user has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

8. This TAL Contributor Licence Agreement shall be governed by the laws of England and Wales. This Agreement is the entire agreement between You and the BBC relating to the subject matter of this TAL Contributor Licence Agreement which supersedes any prior agreement, whether written or oral, and may be amended only by a written agreement signed by both parties.
